Rise in assessments benefits county agencies

Governmental agencies in Letcher County will be about $4,500 richer next year as the result of some work by County Tax Commissioner Otis Amburgey.

Specifically, the money will come in through an increase of some $50,000 in the assessed valuation of property on Poor Fork owned by U.S. Steel and a subcontractor, E. F. Nichols. The steel company's assessment on drilling and mining equipment was upped $20,000 and on minerals was upped $20,000 also. Nichols, who lives in Virginia, has agreed to pay Letcher County and Kentucky taxes on portable equipment valued at $10,880.

Amburgey said tax receipts from the increased assessments will amount to some $5,697. The county will receive $1,477; Jenkins and Letcher County school systems will split $3,165 and the state will get $1,055.

Banquet to honor athletes

Whitesburg High School will hold its Athletic Banquet, Tuesday, May 19, at the V.F.W. Club.

Anyone desiring tickets may purchase them from Dawahare's Department Store, Forrester Combs, Woodford Blair, Walter Enlow, Clyde Sexton, R. C. Day or Coaches Gose, Burton and Moore.

The speaker will be the head football coach at Morehead State College. Coach Penny is a native of Piedmont, Ala. He is a graduate of the University of Mississippi, where he played varsity football three years. Upon graduation he returned to Alabama where he coached in high school for seven years. He accepted the Morehead State College head coaching position Feb. 1, after serving as defensive coach for two years at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch. In his two-year tenure at Martin, the UTMB team lost but one game in sixteen starts. Coach Penny is married and has two daughters.

Haymond parents request new lunchroom for school

The county school board is investigating to see what it can provide in the way of a new lunch room at Haymond school.

A delegation from the Haymond Parent-Teacher Association asked the board for help in the matter.

Mrs. Matthew Richardson, spokesman for the group, said the present lunchroom building, which is rented, is inadequate. Pupils have to walk down a hill from the school to get to the lunchroom, she said, and in bad weather many of them remain in their rooms rather than go to the lunchroom. She said she felt use of the lunchroom would increase if it were housed in a building nearer the school.

The PTA started the lunchroom five years ago, Mrs. Richardson explained. Members have raised money to pay for equipment. For some time, the building was donated rent free by Dr. B. F. Wright, who also furnished some of the equipment. When Dr. Wright sold the building, however, the new owners asked $300 a year rent, which the school board has been paying.

Waterfield to speak here twice May 23

Harry Lee Waterfield

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will make two speeches in Letcher County Saturday, May 23.

Floyd Mercer, Letcher County campaign chairman for Waterfield, said the lieutenant governor will speak at 11 a.m. (EST) at the courthouse in Whitesburg and at 7 p.m. (EST) at the fieldhouse in Jenkins. This will be Waterfield's second trip to Letcher County during the current campaign. He was here in January.

Jail lives up to Sexton's prediction-- it doesn't hold anybody, or not for long

Letcher County's jail is living up to Jailer Robert Sexton's report to fiscal court last year that it "won't hold anybody."

Two more prisoners escaped from the jail Wednesday morning by sawing window bars. One was recaptured, but the other was still at large today, along with two of eight prisoners who escaped by the same method a month ago.

Sexton's problems at the jail are multiplying daily. He told Letcher County magistrates at the May meeting of fiscal court Tuesday that he is in debt some $1,200 for groceries used to feed prisoners and he does not know whether he can continue to feed them on credit from now until July 1, when the new county budget is supposed to go into effect.

The jail had more prisoners than usual this year, and the $12,000 budgeted by fiscal court for dieting prisoners from last July 1 until July 1, 1959, already has been overdrawn.

In addition, the money budgeted for jail supplies also has been spent. The county is out of money except in the account used to pay salaries of county officials and a small amount left in the amount budgeted to hold elections. If the money were available in another account, the magistrates could transfer it to the jail account, but there is no money available. State law prohibits the county from borrowing against next year's revenue.

Last year Sexton threatened to turn prisoners loose if the magistrates did not provide money to feed them; this year, however, he said he can't turn anybody loose, but he promised he would not let "any mother's son" go hungry.

County Atty. F. Byrd Hogg said he had contacted Dave Magill state local finance officer, and Magill said his only suggestion was to let each magistrate forego $100 a month of his $200-a-month salary and give the money to the jail. The magistrates laughed at that.

The magistrates admitted that some of Sexton's troubles were their fault "for sending so many people to jail."

Eastern Kentucky's one chance for the future is Harry Lee Waterfield

By means of this editorial, The Mountain Eagle gives its endorsement to Harry Lee Waterfield for the Democratic nomination for Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. We believe his election would be to the best interest of the people of Letcher County and Eastern Kentucky.

This is, to our knowledge, the first time that The Mountain Eagle ever has publicly endorsed a candidate for governor in a Democratic primary. For this reason, we feel that we owe the people of Letcher County a full explanation of our action. The explanation is simple. Mr. Waterfield has something to offer Eastern Kentucky. To the best of our knowledge, Mr. Bert Combs, his opponent, offers nothing but the usual trite phrases and promises.

Waterfield offers East Kentucky a three-point "line of attack" upon economic problems which would do as much as it is humanly possible to do for this area. In brief, the program offers roads, dams and increased markets for coal.

The key to Waterfield's program is a solemn pledge to build a $60 million network of roads in Eastern Kentucky, centered on the reconstruction of Ky 15 between Winchester and Whitesburg; US 119 in the Cumberland River Valley area, and U. S. 23 in the Big Sandy Valley area. We are convinced this road program is Eastern Kentucky's greatest need. Only after we have adequate roads do we have any hope of attracting industry, big or small, or tourists or any of the other things we so often talk about.

Waterfield's determination to build these roads shows up in the way he approaches the issue. He has stated that financing will be a problem mainly because federal highway funds are committed for roads already planned to be built during the next five years.

But, said Waterfield, "These roads will be built during my administration, even if I have to change some plans already made in order to free the necessary federal funds to match the state funds which we have available."

In other words, Mr. Waterfield has stated that he will tear up the state's present road building program if necessary, in order to free funds to build roads in Eastern Kentucky. The people of Eastern Kentucky could not possibly ask more of a candidate than this.

Looking at the road program purely from the viewpoint of Letcher County, it would be a godsend. With a new Ky 15, a new US 119 and a new US 23, Letcher County would be the hub of transportation in Eastern Kentucky. We would be the crossroads - the only county in the state where all three roads meet.

Waterfield's pledge to devote the full energies of the state to lower freight rates on coal also holds great promise. The simple truth is that coal mined on the Louisville and Nashville railroad is frozen out of the coal market in states South of here by an artificial freight rate barrier. A slight reduction in freight rates would permit our coal to compete for rapidly growing markets in Florida, Georgia and other Southern states. At present, most of the major electric companies south of Kentucky burn oil in their furnaces instead of coal. The oil comes from foreign countries, and from Texas. Men like Harry Laviers, of South-East Coal Co., say that if Eastern Kentucky had the right kind of freight rate, those utilities would burn coal instead of oil.

We have never had a governor willing to fight for a break for the Eastern Kentucky coal industry in the matter of freight rates. Waterfield promises to lead that fight for us. Success could mean employment for an additional 10,000 miners in this area. We can't afford not to back him up.

The third part of Waterfield's Eastern Kentucky platform centers on the matter of flood control. We like the way he approaches this problem, because his approach is based upon a frank and honest recognition that Kentucky by itself can't build the dams and reservoirs that are needed.

Federal help is necessary.

Waterfield states that Kentucky's flood control problems are shared by West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina - all of which have mountains much like ours, with similar flood problems. He reasons that if all six states get together in a formal compact for united action and then go to Washington for help, our chances for success will be multiplied sixfold. Instead of one governor speaking for our cause we would have six, and instead of two senators we would have 12. This makes sense. Furthermore, we appreciate Mr. Waterfield's honesty in not promising dams when he knows - as everyone knows - that a governor by himself couldn't build them.

This newspaper would not take a formal position in this campaign had Mr. Combs come up with a positive program for Eastern Kentucky. He has failed to do so. Instead, he has attempted to woo Eastern Kentucky voters by painting pictures of tourist promotion, new industry and other things which we all know we can't have until we first take care of the fundamentals. First things first, Mr. Combs!

In view of Waterfield's obvious sincerity and determination to help Eastern Kentucky, contrasted to the same old batch of nonsense we've been getting from Combs, we believe Letcher County would do the right thing by voting overwhelmingly for Mr. Waterfield. He is our one chance for the future.

Guard refinishes gymnasium floor

Members of the National Guard have refinished the floor of the Whitesburg gymnasium, which was marred by scratches from cot legs during the time the guard occupied the gym while it was here on coal-strike duty.

Brig. Gen. Jesse Lindsay, the 4th commander told the Letcher County Board of Education his men were spot-sanding where the floor had been scratched and would put a complete new finish coat on the floor. He said an experienced floor man told him that would be a reasonable solution.

School Supt. W. B. Hall remarked that "unfortunately we have had some termite damage" to the gymnasium building, and a complete sanding might damage the floor.

Lindsay expressed regret that the guard had to occupy the gym but pointed out the guardsmen were mostly young boys and he could not put them out in the rainy spring weather when there was a place they could stay under cover.

Telephone Talk

by BOB TAYLOR

Your Telephone Manager

"MOSHI MOSHI!" These are the lilting words used to answer a telephone in Japan. Here in America most of us say "Hello." Numerous versions of that familiar greeting are found around the world. For instance, in Arabia it's "Alo" . . . in Madrid it's "Hola" . . . in Germany it's "Hallo." The Roman says "Pronto," which means "Ready." Latin Americans might say "Con quien?" meaning "With whom?" Some countries dispense with greetings altogether as in England where the direct Briton says "Smith here," and his caller replies with "Jones here." Though customs differ the world over, the importance and convenience of the telephone is universal.

MAGIC CARPETS reserved for Rajahs? Bet your life they're not! I have one, and so do you right within easy reach. It's your telephone! With it you can whisk away to New York, San Francisco, or Hongkong! Be there in minutes, too. And not only does it speed you to the side of faraway friends, but right here at home it transacts business . . . spreads good news . . . runs errands . . . acts as your personal genie! I'm convinced that where "magic carpets" are concerned, Rajahs never had it this good!

(WHEN YOU WHISK AWAY by Long Distance, your magic carpet will get there faster when you call by number, and your trip will cost less when you call after six or on Sunday.)

WHERE ARE YOU when the phone rings? Might as well be on a desert island as stranded rooms away. Yet it's the simplest thing in the world to be rescued. Ever thought of a kitchen extension at your fingertips? Or a bedroom phone for leisurely chats? And, Dad, why feel like a castaway when you slip off to your workshop? It's so easy to have extensions to suit the whole family for only a few cents a day each. They come in colors as lovely as a bouquet of fresh spring flowers, too!

Plastic bag dangers told

Plastic bags, a boon to housewives, can be death traps for children, the State Health Department warned today.

Several children in the western part of the United States have suffocated as a result of placing such bags over their heads, Victor B. Fuqua, supervisor of the Department's Accident Prevention Section, said.

Static electricity causes the plastic to stick to the skin. If the material covers the nose and mouth, air supply is cut off and the child can suffocate.

Unventilated bags, such as the ones dry-cleaned garments are returned in, are the most dangerous, Fuqua said.

"Seemingly innocent playthings can become hazards to life. Although parents cannot anticipate all the dangers, they can minimize the chances that play will lead to accidental injury," Fuqua said.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND The Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.

Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.

The average Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.

Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.

In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known — not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.

The books of the Bible were given by God through writers who addressed themselves to people who already possessed faith in God and to whom the divinely revealed message was, to some extent, already known. These books seek to explain and confirm this message and to induce readers to conform their lives to it. They were certainly not intended to teach all of God's revealed truth to those who were learning it for the first time.

The Bible, properly understood, can exert a tremendous power for good in your personal and family life. But to understand it, you should know something about those who wrote the Bible... the way they thought, spoke and the characteristics of the language they used. By whom was the Bible translated... how can we know these translations are correct? What are the common sense rules to be followed in understanding the Bible? These and other important questions concerning the intelligent use of the Bible are answered in a pamphlet which we will send you in a plain wrapper—free on request. And nobody will call on you. Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before.

We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith, and their payloads, in Chevrolets than in any other make.

Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Now's the time—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for a real truck buy!

Section 33. Continuance of Non-Conforming Uses. Any use of land or structure existing at the time of enactment or subsequent amendment of this ordinance, but not in conformity with its provisions, may be continued with the following limitations:

33.1 No structure containing a non-conforming use shall hereafter be expanded.

33.2 Any structure containing a non-conforming use which has been damaged to the extent of 60 percent or more of its fair sales value immediately prior to damage shall not be repaired or reconstructed except in conformity with this ordinance.

33.4 No non-conforming use may be changed to any other non-conforming use unless the Board of Zoning Adjustment shall find that the proposed non-conforming use is less detrimental to the district than the existing non-conforming use of the property. The Board of Zoning Adjustment may specify such appropriate conditions and safeguards as may be required in connection with such change.

33.5 All non-conforming signs, billboards, junk yards, lumber yards, and similar use of open land not involving an investment in permanent buildings of fifty percent (50%) or more of the assessed evaluation of city land on which they stand shall be torn down, altered or otherwise made to conform within one (1) year of the date of enactment of this ordinance.

33.6 The provisions of Section 33 shall not apply to residences in business and industrial districts.

Section 34. Rear Dwelling Prohibited.

34.1 No dwelling or mobile home shall be erected or placed on a lot which does not abut on at least one street for at least fifty (50) feet, unless approved as a special exception by the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

34.2 No mobile home shall be placed on any residential lot on which exists a dwelling structure unless the mobile home is so placed that it meets all requirements for a dwelling located in that district, and existing city ordinance governing mobile homes. Specifically, mobile homes must be located so that the lot assigned to the mobile home and on which it is located must front on a public street for a distance of not less than fifty (50) feet; the distance between a mobile home and the nearest structure shall equal double the rear yard requirements of a residence in the district in which the mobile home is located, and such mobile home may not be placed in any yard area reserved for another structure. No mobile home may be connected to any utility, or service in, through, or at another structure; all such connections must be provided to the public connections for service to mobile homes.

34.21 The purpose of this subsection is to permit owners of mobile homes, who reside in conventional homes part of the year and in mobile homes part of the year to park their own mobile home on their residential lot in the same sense that vehicular parking is permitted in off-street areas. Light bulb sales benefit 4-H Camp

Homemakers Sell Light Bulbs

The homemakers in Letcher County are selling light bulbs to help raise money for the J. M. Feltner 4-H Club Camp building fund. In a pack, which sells for $1.00, there are two 75-watt bulbs and two 100-watt bulbs. If you need light bulbs, see a homemaker.

Use A Peg Board

Some pegboard and a little imagination can help you make better use of your closet space.

Here's the way pegboard was used in the Beltsville energy-saving kitchen designed by USDA home economists; some of these ideas can be used to make your closets neater, better organized and more useful.

The USDA kitchen used heavy-duty pegboard to divide a closet into two separate storage areas. The perforated pressed wood panels are handy for mounting all kinds of metal hooks and holders available from home supply stores. On these can be hung or stored almost any household article of reasonable weight and size.

A pegboard panel mounted down the center divides a rectangular, conventional - sized closet in the Beltsville kitchen. On one side, which is large enough to hold a vacuum cleaner and mop, vacuum attachments and other cleaning supplies are stored on brackets on the pegboard. An ironing board, iron and ironing supplies can be stored on the other side.

The same principle can be applied to closets elsewhere in the house. A hall closet where outdoor clothing is stored might have brackets and hooks mounted on pegboard to hold umbrellas, hats and overshoes. A section might be blocked off to store cleaning supplies closer to the part of the house where they are most often used. Closet sections should be made the size most convenient for the things to be stored, and pegboard might also be mounted on the back or side walls to hold additional items.

Neon Club

The Neon Homemakers Club has been very active this year. Among other projects, they have sponsored the March of Dimes and Heart Fund Drive, and had a bake sale from which they donated $90.00 toward Neon-Fleming band uniforms.

Schedule

Thursdays, May 14 the Colson Club will meet at 10:00 (CST), at the home of Mrs. Dale Caudill and the Blackey Club will meet at 6:30 (CST), at the Church House.

Monday, May 18 the Whitesburg Jr. Club will meet at 7:30 at the home of Ethel Lewis.

Dogwoods may need attention

By Robert H. Fike
County Agricultural Agent
Soil Treatments

Quite often we are bothered by soil insects of one kind or another. This may be in gardens, field crops, or flower beds. Soil insects can be controlled by the use of four to five pound Aldrin per acre or eight to ten pounds of Chlordane per acre.

Dogwoods May Need Attention

A case or two has been noticed where insects seem to sting the tip ends of dogwoods, causing them to die and not flower or just to die away. This stinging deposits an egg which causes a worm to form in the wood of the twig. If this happens to your dogwood trees the treatment is to spray with Malathion now and one month later and preferably also at the time this is happening, which usually is before bloom.

What Are The Best Sprays?

The best all around insecticide is Malathion, either in the dust or spray material. This will kill and not just run away the insects.

Blight

For blight the best material is Zineb and Maneb, either dust or wettable spray.

This does not mean that the sprays you have used in the past are no good, it merely means that these are the best and will give you a little better results.

If your garden does not produce all of the vegetables necessary for the family during the entire year, it is not good enough. The gardener himself determines how much he will have.

Industrial electronics course starts

In an effort to meet the needs of an ever growing and changing industrial world for trained technicians, the Hazard Area Vocational School is beginning a full time course in industrial electronics, May 1. This course will consist of the fundamentals of electricity, control panels, AC and DC motors and controls, generators, transformers, fundamentals of electronics, electronic measuring instruments, electronic controls and devices, drafting and technical related information. The course will be open to people 16 years of age or older who meet the entrance requirements of the school.

Those interested in this course should contact the area vocational school office as soon as possible as enrollment will be limited.

School officials said: "The technician is the key man between the engineer and craftsman in industry. He must have the theoretical knowledge and the ability to produce. He uses drawing instruments, gauges, applied science, mathematics, diagnosis and analysis, common sense, initiative and good judgment in turning the ideals and theories of the engineer into mass produced items. He builds, supervises, and controls electronic machines and devices in our plants and offices. He is a key man in most industrial installations, and the supply is so short that the national Congress recently appropriated several million dollars to train and upgrade people for the jobs."

The class will be under the supervision of Bob C. Williams, graduate of Letcher High School, Blackey, Ky., and Coyne Electrical School, Chicago, Ill. Williams has been employed by Sterling Hardware as an electronics service man for the past six years.

OBITUARY

James Howard Martin Sr.

James Howard Martin, Sr., was born January 25, 1892 in Philadelphia, Penn. He was married to Myrtle Amanda Pack on August 24, 1912. Twelve children were born to this union. The mother and three children preceded him in death.

On December 18, 1937 Mr. Martin was married to Hattie Crabtree. Seventeen of their twenty-one years of union, this husband suffered great physical pain, but found comfort in God through the loving hands that administered unto him. Though afflicted himself, Mrs. Martin made every effort to bring her husband comfort. He realized her faithfulness and often expressed humble appreciation.

His nine children, through various personalities expressed a deep love and respect for Daddy, some boldly, others timidly, but all endlessly. Having won his reward sooner than his family, on the twenty-first day of March, he left to anticipate the reunion in heaven, his loving wife, Hattie Martin, four sons and five daughters.

Paul Martin, Jewell Valley, Va.
George Martin, Dunham, Ky.

James Martin Jr., Lexington, Ky.

Clarence Martin, Sunnyslope, Ariz.

Mrs. Robert Kitchen, Paintsville, Ky.

Mrs. James Yonts, Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Rosie Breeding, Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Wm. Wyatt, Dunham, Ky.

Mrs. Ray Gilley, Parrish, Ala.

Also thirty-three grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, three sisters and two brothers and a host of relatives and friends.

Reverend Martin worked faithfully for many years, not only in the Free Will Baptist Church but anywhere that he felt that he could be of help to mankind.

Jesus was born and then suffered death. Mr. Martin did likewise. But just as Christ was resurrected, so also shall he be raised in the likeness of the Savior.

Our Daddy and husband, you have suffered humbly and patiently in this life. We desire to make of you an example of love, tenderness, and kindness, and we thank you for our spiritual inheritance, which means more than silver or gold. We shall strive to meet you in Heaven.

About

J. PHIL SMITH

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR LT.-GOVERNOR

OF THE STATE OF KENTUCKY

J. Phil Smith was born at Hindman, Knott County, Kentucky, son of Mrs. Hillard H. Smith and the late Mr. Smith, who served as State Banking Commissioner in the Willis Administration. He is a graduate of Hindman Settlement School and attended the University of Kentucky for one year before transferring to Morehead State College to complete his degree work.

The Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor is married to the former Miss Barbara Hogge of Morehead, Kentucky and the Smiths have three young sons; Hillard, 11; Lester H., 8; and Leonard, 7. The Smiths moved to Jackson in 1958. After his father's death in 1951, Phil was elected president of the First National Bank and at 27 was the youngest bank president in Kentucky.

Smith is currently serving as the elected Mayor of Jackson and in July of 1958 accepted the temporary presidency of Lees Junior College. He declines to accept any salary for his duties as mayor and college president.

He is also vice-president of the Bank of Hindman, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Dossie Scott Children Home, serves on the Breathitt County Schools Advisory Committee and is a member of the Breathitt Red Cross Committee. He served two terms as Jackson City Councilman and was a member of the Jackson Board of Education for several years.

Phil is a Methodist and an ardent church-goer. He teaches a Young Men's Sunday School class, serves on the Official Board of the church, sings in the choir, serves as church pianist and is Lay Leader for the Lexington District of the Methodist Church. He is a generous contributor of his time and financial support to work of the church.

The 34-year-old executive has had an influential part in the growth and development of Jackson and Breathitt County. In January he was named "Breathitt County's Most Outstanding Citizen" at the annual Citizenship Night of the Jackson Kiwanis and Woman's Clubs.

Phil is an active member of the Breathitt County Chamber of Commerce, Jackson Kiwanis Club, American Legion, 4-H Council and the Masonic Lodge. A veteran of World War II, Phil also serves as Breathitt County GOP Chairman and has gained the respect and confidence of leaders of both major political parties.

Strike hearing postponed to July

The National Labor Relations Board postponed until July 15 a hearing of unfair-labor-practices charges against the United Mine Workers of America in connection with the strike at Eastern Kentucky coal mines.

It also said the hearing, originally set for June 1 at London, Ky., had been transferred to Lexington.

The U.M.W. and its District 30 are accused of violence, mass picketing, restraint, and other illegal activities at struck non-union mines.

A hundred and thirty-four cases are pending against the mine workers and their union.

The change in the hearing date and its site was made at the request of the coal companies.

United States District Judge H. Church Ford has issued a temporary restraining order against the U.M.W., banning violence and restricting picketing.

The order was to continue in effect until the N.L.R.B. hearing or until the U.M.W. requested a court hearing.

Homemakers meet at Dunham

By Margaret Flint

The Dunham Homemakers Club meeting was held Friday, May 1 at the home of Mrs. Lola Chaney with the president, Carol Preston, presiding. Mrs. Chaney was unable to attend training school due to a fall and cutting her leg very bad. We are very happy that Roberta Halcomb was present and gave us our lesson on frozen fruits, but was very sorry when she announced she was leaving for a position in Florida. The club took 30 packages of light bulbs to sell for the J. M. Feltner 4-H Club Cmap. There was only six members present. A pot luck lunch was enjoyed by all.

A locomotive operator in the battalion's Company C, Slaughter entered the Army in 1948.

The sergeant attended Jenkins High School and was employed by the Dayton (Ohio) Pump Co., before entering the Army.

Combs is NOT Qualified to be Governor - says Wyatt

Here - in his very own words - is what Wyatt thinks about his running mate:

"BERT COMBS HAS NEITHER THE VIGOR, THE CAPACITY for LEADERSHIP, THE PROGRAM, NOR THE FREEDOM from FACTIONAL CONTROL that KENTUCKY MUST HAVE TO MEET THE DEMANDS OF THE FUTURE."

This is what Wyatt repeatedly said in public speeches - just a few days before his deal with Combs' boss, Earle Clements
